OTTENHEIM.

Myrtle Dyehouse continues very low with no prospects for improvement.

James Bros. have finished sawing at their present mill seat and will move their mill back on the pike near home in a few days.

Milton Kidd, lately deceased, was followed by his little baby Monday. Both were laid to rest in the Oak's Chapel burying ground.

An infant of Mr. Carr, who recently moved to this section from the mountains, was interred in the Pine Grove burying ground Sunday.

The Pine Grove Sunday school will give an Easter entertainment on that day, of songs and speeches suitable for the occasion. Everybody is invited.

Father Hellings seems to be useful with saw, plane and hammer, as well as an expounder of scripture. He has done his part of the work and the designing of the tower of the Catholic church and improving the walks and roads to the church.

One of the most pleasant occasions of recent date in our midst occurred Saturday last, when the friends, children and grand children of Mrs. Cindy James gathered at the home of her son, Cyrus James, to celebrate her 69th birthday. Despite the inclement weather, a good number were present and enjoyed the feast of good things prepared for the occasion, 57 in all, partaking of their hospitality. Mrs. James is the relict of Garland James and is "Grandma" or "Aunt Cin" to almost every man, woman and child in the neighborhood. It was beautiful to see the deference shown her by her children and grand children. She is the mother of 15 children, four of whom are living, 20 grand children and 16 great grand children. May she long be spared to them and celebrate many more birthdays is the wish of the entire neighborhood, where she is loved and respected.

Grip Quickly Knocked Out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. S. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, aiding the same with a double dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." Sold by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, Stanford.

CHURCH MATTERS.

A Maysville minister keeps an advertisement for his church in the papers. He says he has seen the good results of it.

Rev. Victor W. Dorris, for many years the minister of the Christian church at Georgetown, has accepted a call in Pendleton, Wash.

While saying requiem mass at the funeral of one of his parishioners the Rev. John Dempsey, resident priest of St. Bernard's Catholic church at Crawfordsville, Ind., fell dead in his pulpit.

A dispatch from Williamsburg says: The Baptist church congregation will build a new $15,000 church this spring. Nearly all of the money is already subscribed. A New York millionaire has promised $40,000 for a new recitation building for Williamsburg Institute if the people will build the new church, which is now assured.

Rheumatism Makes Life Miserable.

A happy home is the most valuable possession that is within the reach of mankind, but you cannot enjoy its comforts if you are suffering from rheumatism. You throw aside business cares when you enter your home and you can be relieved from those rheumatic pains also by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. One application will give you relief and its continued use for a short time will bring about a permanent cure. For sale by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, Stanford.

"He's the most devout man in the church. I never saw anyone who could be so absorbed in prayer."

"Indeed? I never noticed it."

"Probably not. I don't suppose you ever took up the collection." —Catholic Standard.

The Government Printing Office.

On his way to New York your correspondent stopped over in Washington for a few days and while there visited the great government printing office, where he met Public Printer Charles S. Stillings. At his invitation he made a tour of the big plant and found an army of workers of all the trades that go to make up a first class printing office, the number of people there being as large as the population of the average Kentucky cities.

Accustomed to handling big propositions, Mr. Stillings went about the task before him with the energy of a steam engine and those in Washington who are familiar with conditions are beginning to see the effect of his four months of work almost night and day. He has to a very large extent overcome the hostile feeling toward him among the employees, and has entirely changed that on "Capitol Hill." His effort to get things down to a reasonable, economic, as well as an orderly basis, is being appreciated.

The stringent orders necessary to uproot a long existing laxity of discipline, at first pinched like a new shoe, but now that the newness has worn off there is not the complaint heard at one time. The new public printer expected the shoe would pinch but stood by his guns and the result is most gratifying in official circles.

Mr. Stillings is gradually reorganizing the office and surrounding himself with the best material obtainable. His chief clerk, Capt. H. T. Brain, foreman of printing; Charles E. Young and Private Secretary Fred A. Collins, are his right hand men and have national reputations as able lieutenants and accommodating officials.

The latter part of November last, President Roosevelt surprised the employees of Uncle Sam's big printing and official Washington as well, by the announcement of the selection as public printer of Mr. Charles A. Stillings, formerly of Boston, but at the time manager of the Printers and Bookbinders Board of Trade of New York City.

The appointment was a distinct disappointment to the personnel of the office and one that did not take well with many representatives in Congress, for they had indorsed another man. The new public printer, who is a young man of excellent equipment for the place, entered upon his duties handicapped by a feeling of hostility and resentment both in the office and in Congress.

It was a condition and not a theory that confronted him. The plant was honey combed with cliques and factions and a generally demoralized condition had existed for some time. Departmental chiefs appearing before the Appropriation and Printing Committees of Congress were testifying as to the excessive cost of their printing, although the facilities for such work were unequalled by any printing establishment in the world.

He has created some new places known as inspectorships and a statistician. Chief Inspector Charles S. Brown hails from Michigan and is thoroughly fitted for the duties devolving upon him in the reorganization of the office. His relations with the public printer are of very personal and confidential character—perhaps more so than any other official in the office. Mr. Brown has two able assistants in the person of Mr. H. F. Ashion, of California, and Dr. Wm. J. Manning, of Boston. The place of statistician has been given to a Southern man, Russell O. Beene, of Tennessee. Messrs. Ashion, Manning and Beene were promoted from the ranks and help make up the personal staff of the public printer.

The printing offices cost the government approximately $5,000,000 and the annual disbursements now exceed $7,000,000. Over 4,300 people are employed at an average compensation of about $3 a day. Its output is greater than that of any similar establishment in existence. As soon as Congress makes the proper appropriation it is the public printer's intention to install in the big printing the largest and finest lithographing equipment of any office in the country.

Recently they have installed in the office about 100 Lanston and 57 Mergenthaler typesetting machines. With this large number of machines and the heavy force of hand compositors they turn out an enormous quantity of printing.

Suffered for Five Years with Kidney and Liver Trouble.

"I suffered for five years with kidney and liver trouble, which caused severe pains across the back and a blinding headache. I had dyspepsia and was so constipated that I could not move my bowels without a cathartic. I was cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and have been well now for six months," says Mr. Arthur S. Strickland, of Chattanooga, Tenn. For sale by Dr. W. N. Craig, the popular druggist, Stanford.

Money back if it fails.

What Gave Him His Bearings.

He was a big, black, good-hearted old Negro, stranded near Boston, and he had decided, after considerable "cogitation," to work his way back to the South, where he would feel more at home. In Boston, in Springfield, in Hartford, in New Haven, it was always the same. When he rang a bell and asked for work and a bite to eat the answer usually was, "I'm very sorry, but there's not a thing to be done here today." There were occasional exceptions, of course, or uncle could never have gone on, but the thing most to be counted upon was pleasing politeness coupled with nothing else.

A last the old man left New York and then Philadelphia behind, and one day found himself in Baltimore. His knowledge of geography was nil, but he thought he ought soon to be getting into "de Souf" and with that hope at heart rang the bell to a fine house on Charles street. The door was opened by the host himself, who, after an instant's survey of the figure before him, blurted out:

"Why, yo—black rascal! How dare yo' ring this bell? Get off mah steps this secon', befo' I brek yo' ha'd!"

"Deed I will, boss; 'deed I will," came the hurried answer. "I wuz o'ny lookin' for a bite to eat, boss."

"A bite to eat!" repeated the other. "An' don't know yet whar to go for all yo' want? Get yo'self round back, an' they'll feed yo' full—but cyart yo' good-for-nuthin' black carcass of these steps, I say!"

And as uncle went around to the side door he raised his hands to heaven, and with tears of rejoicing running down his furrowed cheeks, said:

"Bress de Lord! I'se back agin among mah own folks!" —Harper's Weekly.

As a result of a vote taken on municipal ownership in Chicago that city can proceed to acquire and control the street railways, but cannot operate them. The proposition for municipal operation required 60 per cent. of the total vote cast in order to be effective and it fell short of the requisite three-fifths.

Nervous School Children.

Statistics gathered by various School Boards, show that a large percentage of school children suffer from different forms of nervousness, mild or exaggerated. Some showed a tendency to melancholy, others mental depression, and many the nervous twitches of mild chorea, or St. Vitus' dance. Most of these troubles can be overcome by proper food, sufficient sleep, and Dr. Caldwell's (laxative) Syrup Pepsi. It is a universal children's medicine, because, if good food is eaten, it insures that the food is properly digested and indigestion and nerve poisons properly thrown out. It is pleasant to take, and safe and sure in results. Try it. Sold by Penny's Drug Store, Stanford; C. W. Adams, Hustonville, at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

A man may use the mole on the back of his neck for a collar button; he may ride a freight to save three cents a mile; he may light the lamp with a splinter to save matches; he may stop his watch at night to save wear; use a period for semicolon to save ink, and pasture his grandmother's grave to save hay; but a man of this kind is a scholar and a gentleman compared to a man who will take a newspaper and when asked to pay for it put it back in the postoffice marked "Refused."

Caught Cold While Hunting a Burglar.

Mr. Wm. Thos. Lanigan, provincial Constable at Chapleau, Ontario, says: "I caught a severe cold while hunting a burglar in the forest swamp last fall. Hearing of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I tried it, and after using two small bottles, I was completely cured." This remedy is intended especially for coughs and colds. It will loosen and relieve a severe cold in less time than by any other treatment and is a favorite wherever its superior excellence has become known.

E. C. WALTON.

JUDGE JOHN W. HUGHES, of Mercer county, is a candidate to represent the Eighth Congressional district of Kentucky in Congress, to succeed Hon. G. Gilbert, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

THE announcement of Judge John W. Hughes, of Harrodsburg, for Congress, appears elsewhere in this issue. A man of ability, a good democrat, a splendid "mixer" and a gentleman in all the word means, Judge Hughes will cut no small figure in the race he has just entered. He has thrice been elected judge of his county, defeating for the nomination last year Judge Ben F. Roach, considered the strongest man in Mercer. He served as master commissioner under Judge M. C. Saufley and for several years was police judge of Harrodsburg. He filled these offices most acceptably and has so pleased his home people that they want to see him go higher and they will use every honest effort to elevate him. Judge Hughes is of pleasing personality, a good speaker, a fine organizer and a capital hand-shaker—necessary qualifications of a successful politician.

JOHN ALEXANDER DOWIE, who claims to be the third Elijah, and who founded the Christian Catholic Church and Zion City, near Chicago, was repudiated Sunday by the 5,000 adherents and Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who for some time has been conducting the affairs of the church, was elected in his stead. Mrs. Dowie also repudiated her husband, and their son, Gladstone Dowie, cast his lot with his mother and the new leader, Voliva. When Dowie heard of what had been done he telegraphed from Mexico, discharging Voliva and taking from him his power of attorney. This came too late, however, for the die had been cast and the old fraud had been shorn of his authority.

THE suggestion of the selection of a candidate for United States Senator by a State primary election seems to be a good one. There is a decided feeling all over the country for the election of a United States Senator by a popular vote. Many States have asked for a constitutional amendment to that end. Kentucky might hasten the desired consummation by showing next year how excellent and desirable such a change would be.

OFFICIAL reports show that the horse has not been superseded by the automobile by any means. In 1905 there were 17,057,702 horses in the United States, against 14,213,837 in 1890. The export price averaged $308.99 last year, against $174.50 in 1892. The spread of the automobile is amazing, but it is still to a great degree a fad and a toy. The faithful old horse will continue in evidence for many more years to come.

THE New York Journal of Commerce estimates that the leading industrial and railroad corporations will disburse in dividends this month nearly $65,000,000, against a little over $38,000,000 in March. All this money will seek investment; it is the golden stream that turns the wheel of the national mill. The amount breaks all records for April.

JIM HOWARD, serving a life term for having fired the shot that killed Gov. Goebel, is said to be writing a book. It is to be hoped that he will tell in it all he knows about the foulest assassination that has ever darkened the pages of Kentucky's history.

THE Lancaster Record, brighter and better than ever, is now "sweet 16." Eleven years of its life have been under the careful editorial management of that prince of good fellows, Mr. Louis Landram.

Milton Young, of Fayette county, State Senator Jack Chin, of Mercer county, as representing the great breeding interests of Kentucky, and former Mayor Charles F. Grainger, of Louisville, and Louis Desognes, of Lexington, widely known men of affairs. The appointments are for a term of four years.

HUSTONVILLE.

A highly prized daughter of the West End, beloved not only by her family, but by scores of admiring friends all over Kentucky, was led to the altar at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Yowell, by Mr. B. N. Averitt, of Bradfordsville, at 10 o'clock A. M., Wednesday. The ceremony, which was very impressive, was performed by Rev. G. W. Mills, of the Christian church, of which congregation she is a member. With the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's soul inspiring wedding march beautifully rendered by Miss Orphine Williams, the procession entered the darkened parlors lighted with tapers, where over 50 guests were in waiting. The officiating minister entered, followed by Mr. James Yowell and Miss Rana Tucker, of Springfield, who wore an Alice gray suit, carrying white carnations and followed by best man, Mr. Joe Averitt, supporting the groom, then the matron of honor, Mrs. Amanda Bradley, of Bradfordsville, handsomely gowned in white silk and carrying white carnations, with the bride, who wore an exquisitely tailored suit of Alice blue, carrying a large bouquet of La France roses, and with step of a queen in perfect time with the musical strains, they halted in a semi-circle facing the officiating minister.

More than 100 elegant and useful presents were the gifts of loving friends. The bridal party with a host of friends immediately left for Bradfordsville, where an elegant reception was tendered them at 8 o'clock, which was largely attended. This was one of the most beautiful home weddings in the West End in a long time. An elegant dinner of all the delicacies of the season was much enjoyed by the many guests.

It is generally believed that Fred Newland, son of Mrs. Alice Newland, now of East Bernstadt, has been foully dealt with. He has been missing since March 19, at which time he left a hotel at Gadsden, Ala., saying he would return in a few moments. His brother and partner have made a diligent search for him and have offered a large reward, but no trace has been found. Great sympathy is felt for the family in their trouble.

NO WAITING.—The program rendered by the Schubert Company is entirely devoid of waits. Pleasing the people is a trade with this famous organization, and they know tiresome waits are not a part of an enjoyable program. Although their program is bright and entertaining and contains a great deal of pure fun, it is so refined in character and the laughs so wholesome, that it is endorsed and patronized by the most popular people everywhere. Hear them at Walton's Opera House April 14, under auspices of the Graded School.

THE fiscal court was in session Tuesday and Wednesday. The levy was fixed at 42 cents, to be used as follows: 16c for maintaining the turnpikes, 2c for interest on the outstanding bonds, 3c to go to the sinking fund, 8c for county roads and 13c for ordinary expenses. The office of supervisor was dispensed with and certain citizens on the pike will look after the spreading of rock and gravel and other work necessary at so much per mile. Capt. B. F. Powell, Major Ike Shelby and other good men offered to do this at $3 per mile on pikes in their respective neighborhoods. Mr. A. C. Dunn, who filled the office of supervisor most acceptably, was employed to look after the spreading of the rock from J. R. Beasley's rock crusher. An order was made to take the sense of the people at the November election on a $40,000 court house.
